Welcome Note

Dear Distinguished Guests,

A Warm Welcome to DWP Congress India 2026.

From across the world, together we have arrived in India today.

Across continents, cultures and corners of the world, we have come together in India today and it is truly an honour to welcome each one of you to the 17th Edition of DWP Congress.

For over a decade, DWP Congress has journeyed across the world, bringing together the experts of the global wedding and celebration industry. What began as a platform to connect an industry has evolved into a truly global community. One built on shared ambition, meaningful relationships, cultural exchange and the belief that when the right people come together, possibilities of dreams & passion follow.

Over the years, we have travelled across destinations, experienced different cultures and witnessed the industry evolve in remarkable ways. Yet, at the heart of every DWP Congress has remained one constant.

People & Connections
People who imagine uniquely.
People who create with purpose.
People who challenge conventions.
And people who believe that the industry is stronger when we build it together.

At Fairmont Udaipur Palace, surrounded by the heritage, artistry and timeless grandeur of Rajasthan, we have today come together to celebrate the richness of India, but also the immense possibilities that emerge when the world's global planners meet the second largest market in weddings & celebration industry.

India has always understood the art of bringing people together.

And that is what DWP Congress brings to you all today.

The possibilities here become limitless.

So, as we open this new chapter of our journey, may Udaipur give you the inspiration to think bigger, connect deeper and create together.

With deep appreciation and anticipation,

Sidh NC

BESPOKE LUXURY EXPERIENCES

Meet, one of the world's leading luxury experience management companies, known for creating unforgettable weddings. Led by the visionary Mahesh Shirodkar, affectionately known as "Bossy" (a nickname he has more than earned).

Tamarind has spent over two decades turning grand ideas into flawlessly executed realities, across the globe. Pioneering into destination firsts where no weddings have been executed from South East Asia to the Middle East and other parts of the globe , the company has paved way and opened the floodgates for numerous other weddings over the years.

From fairytale destination weddings to boardroom-sharp corporate events, MICE programmes, milestone celebrations, and tailor-made luxury holidays, Tamarind Global does it all and makes it look effortless, which, trust us, it isn't. Behind every seamless moment sits a formidable machine: event conceptualization, venue sourcing, destination management, décor, production, entertainment, guest logistics, travel, concierge, and on-ground operations, all working in quiet harmony.

The result? A guest list of loyal, family-like clients we built over years that are the who's-who- leading corporations, distinguished business families, celebrities, and high-net-worth individuals who've learned that "beyond expectations" isn't a tagline here; it's the baseline.

Driven by Bossy's belief that luxury lives in the details, Tamarind Global blends meticulous planning with world-class hospitality to craft experiences that linger long after the last guest leaves. Meaningful connections, timeless memories, and the occasional happy tear - all in a day's work.

LIGHTING DESIGN PARTNER

Experience Light Painting

"Light is not simply illumination. It is a language." By Srikanth Naroj

PopAround is an experiential lighting design company that transforms weddings and celebrations into immersive visual narratives.

Founded on the cinematic vision of Srikanth, a cinematographer turned lighting designer, PopAround approaches every event as a story with a beginning, middle and end. Our philosophy goes beyond illuminating spaces. We believe light is a language that reveals architecture, enhances textures, evokes emotions and shapes the way guests experience their surroundings.

Blending cinematic techniques, artistic experimentation and unconventional lighting applications, we create environments where every detail contributes to a larger experience. From architectural landmarks to intimate wedding celebrations, our designs are guided by sensitivity to space, culture and human emotion.

We believe true luxury lies not in the number of fixtures, but in the thoughtful placement of light and the feelings it creates.

At PopAround, we don't simply light events. We create experiences that linger in memory long after the celebration ends.

JYOTI JAIN
DESIGNER MENSWEAR

I'm Jyoti Jain, a menswear designer who started my journey 13 years ago in an industry largely centred around women's fashion.

I wanted to change the way men dress — moving beyond the usual black shirts and conventional suits to create menswear that reflects personality, individuality, and confidence.

What began as a passion has grown into two stores, in Delhi and Jaipur, along with personalised online consultations and bespoke styling for clients worldwide. Over the last decade, we've had the privilege of designing for 500+ families and their wedding celebrations.

And in a beautiful twist to the usual family-business story, while sons often join their fathers' businesses, my brother joined mine — making this journey even more special.

For me, menswear is not just about dressing a man; it's about helping him discover his own style.

Founded in 1988 by iron craftsman Calogero Privitera, Privitera Eventi evolved into a luxury industry leader when his sons-Angelo, Paolo, and Massimo-infused the business with modern entrepreneurial vision. Today, the company is renowned for its premium, customized scenographic coverings and event designs.

The crown jewel of their portfolio is the Greenhouse La Fenice. It immediately became the brand's signature presentation space and rapidly established itself as Europe's premier greenhouse for luxury events.

La Fenice is more than architecture; it is a "container of ideas" where master Italian craftsmanship meets creative genius. Its transparent, lightweight design blends seamlessly with surrounding nature and architecture, creating a magical atmosphere.

Balancing aesthetic excellence with rigorous technical quality, Privitera Eventi bridges cultures-forging a strong bond between Italy and the United States through a shared appreciation for beauty. KARUIZAWA
JAPAN

RUSTIC - Karuizawa, Japan. Built by carpenters. Guided by wabi-sabi.

RUSTIC began thirteen years ago in Karuizawa, Japan's best-known mountain resort, 60 minutes from Tokyo: carpenters building celebrations in the forest. Japan had few garden weddings then, so we built floors, tents and kitchen ourselves. To us, rustic means not natural but wabi-sabi: beauty by subtraction.

Great celebrations are built by addition: more flowers, more light, more gold. We are specialists in subtraction. Your clients' luxury stays; we carry it to the quieter side. We remove the noise around people, so they meet, talk and dance freely.

Wabi-sabi is how we work, not what you wear or eat. A week-long Indian wedding, a French village feast, one evening or many, any faith, any ritual: your traditions stay as they are. Our home is a garden or a forest, as comfortable as any ballroom: floors, RUSTIC tents, rain walls, silent power, full sound, our own kitchen. Glamping, not camping. We work in ballrooms too; the best celebrations move between hall and trees.

An intimate dinner, a 3,000-guest festival, full course for 500 on induction: all built. Japan is full of gardens the world has never seen, and quiet places that rarely host one. We know how to ask. Come in 2027.

LA PERLA DEL DOGE

VILLA CIARDI

Villa Ciardi and La Perla del Doge offer two distinctive ways of experiencing a wedding in Puglia: the timeless charm of an 18th-century residence surrounded by nature, and the beauty of a venue built directly on the Adriatic Sea.

Villa Ciardi is a historic estate with a story that goes far beyond its elegant halls and frescoed Piano Nobile. Its centuries-old park hides ancient caves, underground passages and pathways, some of which were used as shelters during the Second World War. From the Garden by the Lake to the Borgo and Corte Nobile, each space reveals a different side of the property, allowing the wedding to unfold as a journey through history, nature and authentic Puglian heritage.

La Perla del Doge, only 15 minutes from Bari International Airport, is defined by its extraordinary connection with the sea. The bride and groom can even arrive directly by boat, making their entrance from the Adriatic before celebrating their civil or symbolic ceremony on the iconic Patio sul Mare.

From there, the celebration can continue across panoramic terraces and outdoor spaces overlooking the water, with elegant indoor halls providing a beautiful Plan B. Dinner under the stars, celebrations by the sea and the possibility of arriving from the water make La Perla del Doge a truly immersive Mediterranean experience.

Two different souls of Puglia - one rooted in history, the other overlooking the sea - united by the same vision of authentic, refined and unforgettable celebrations.

Jess and Nanya Tantapaiboon

Co- Founders & Directors,
The Wedding Bliss, Thailand

Nanya and Jess Tantapaiboon built The Wedding Bliss Thailand on one very strong belief: a luxury wedding should be designed, not assembled. Sisters and cofounders, they launched the company in 2011 as two young Thai women with no interest in the ballroom-style weddings they were used to seeing in the country's traditional luxury scene. Their answer was one-of-a-kind celebrations, conceived like a production, for couples with refined taste.

The company runs on two very different minds that fit together perfectly: Nanya leads the planning force, while Jess brings the strategy.

The artist's eye. Trained in theatre and choreography, and also a painter, Nanya thinks in composition, staging, and flow. Every wedding is a blank canvas for her. She brings architecture, light, florals, and the guest journey, from arrival to the last dance, together as one cohesive piece. Travel, food, music, and architecture feed her work, and she also co-owns a wine bar in Phuket.

The savvy strategist. A Communication Arts graduate with an MBA, Jess studied in Bangkok and the USA before sharpening her craft in New York City, where she worked in marketing for a luxury SoHo spa and then in public relations at La Mer. She shapes the brand, press relationships, and client experience, holding the service to the same standard as the design.

The result is a Thai-owned, Thai-staffed team with an international clientele. With 95% of its clients coming from overseas and weddings featured in Vogue, the company remains underpinned by a deliberate commitment to quality. It now brings the same design-led approach to luxury brand events.
